Conner practices a wide range of civil and commercial litigation including professional negligence, construction litigation, contract disputes, subrogation, and debt recovery.

In law school, Conner was an Associate Caseworker in his law school's community legal clinic. Conner also enjoyed competing in moot court events and placed as a finalist in the Cherniak Cup Trial Advocacy Competition and a semi-finalist in a Negotiation Competition. Conner was also a Caseworker, Case Manager, and 3L Mentor in Western's Business Law Clinic. Finally, Conner was the Vice-President of Internal Affairs for the Western Human Rights Law Student Society.

Prior to law school, Conner worked for the Specific Claims Branch of Crown-Indigenous Relations and Northern Affairs as a Negotiations Intern. While there, he worked under a federal negotiator to resolve historic treaty breaches and learned the critical importance of resolving disputes before they get to trial.

In his free time, Conner enjoys collecting vinyl records, cooking, playing video games, and spending time outdoors with his dog, Farley.
